Inspired by the way local nonprofits responded to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Community Foundation made a call to community members to share their love for these organizations by writing a love letter. Each love letter received was mailed to the nonprofit with a $100 micro-grant included. Community members were also challenged to come up with creative ways to serve the community. For each idea submitted, the Community Foundation provided a micro-grant up to $250 in support of their initiative.
