Carolyn Matthews Memorial Scholarship

The Carolyn Matthews Memorial Scholarship is a scholarship awarded to a high school senior based on his or her involvement with school and community service activities, character and academic record.

Carolyn was an editor at the Star-Gazette and wrote the award winning column, "Coping with Cancer," until her death in 1994 at the age of 29. She participated in community groups set up to help cancer patients cope with their disease.

One student is nominated per eligible school each year by their school counselor. Nominated students are instructed to log in and apply. One winner is chosen from the pool of submissions. You are receiving this insert because your school is eligible.

Eligibility: from the Twin Tiers (only one nominee per school) where the Star Gazette is distributed. (List of schools by alphabetical order: Addison High School, Athens Area, Bradford, Canisteo-Greenwood, Canton Area, Corning, Cowanesque, Elmira, Hammondsport, Haverling, Horseheads, Northeast Bradfrod, North-Penn, Notre Dame, Odessa-Montour, Prattsburgh, Sayre, Spencer Van Etten, Thomas A Edison, Towanda, Troy Area, Twin Tiers, Watkins Glen, Waverly, Wellsboro, Williamson) A letter of recommendation from the School Counselor nominating the student must be included with the application.

School counselors please reach out to cmm@communityfund.org for instructions on how to nominate a student.